High School is like a big ice cream sundae, you can find all different flavors, and combinations. There's always something to please everyone. Individuality is what makes high school great and everyone has something to contribute. Whether its sports, creativity, talents, hobbies, memories, or friendships, everyone adds to the school. We all spend a lot of time here, so it has become a part of us. No matter how different we are, we all have one thing in common, our love for SHS. It's our bond with each other! But unlike an ice cream sundae, the memories will never melt away.

Hanging out with friends, surviving the NEASC accredidation team's visit, and then taking either the MCAS, PSAT's or SAT's all made up our past school year. And then getting not one, but TWO new assistant principals (who were trying to get us to tow the line) the "scoop" is: it's been a year of changes.

We tried to abide by the new rules that were layed down for us, as tough as that was, but we did survive. Many of us complained about how strict our school was becoming, e.g. no hats, no cell phones, no electronic devices, and so on... how could we possibly live without them for an entire school day? But even with all the new rules, or in spite of them, having everyone at SHS go through these changes together, made them seem more tolerable.

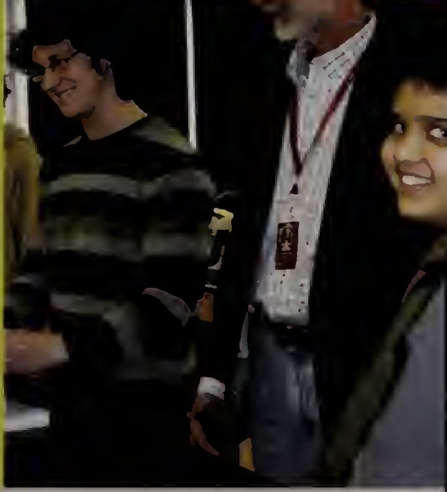
Mr. Eric Bruns

It has been a pleasure for colleagues in the scienc department to work for years with someone as brilliant, dedicated and gentle as Eric Bruns. He will be missed; not only by his students, but also by all the people he has touched. We wish Eric good health and happiness as he journey s into the next chapter of his life.
-Joan LaCroix
Department Coordinator

Our Gift to You

Mr. Bruns is a caring, dedicated, science teacher who runs a challenging class. He actually makes learning physics fun, and readily offers to help. He tries to explain concepts in a way that makes it clear for everyone to be able to understand. He always encourages us to do well. You can tell he genuinely likes teaching because he has a great attitude towards his students, and he has a lot of patience. In addition, he is very understanding when it comes to circumstances involving late homework or whatever the case may be. He really tries to work with us and be accommodating. Mr. Bruns we wish you the best of luck in your retirement!

The Class of 2008 would like to dedicate this yearbook to Mr.Bruns. Thank you Mr. Bruns for all your years of wonderful teaching and kindness. We appreciate you!



You can always find Mr. Bruns because he makes himself available to his students.

Mr. Bruns has an enjoyable sense of humor, and possesses a genuine love of the material he teaches. Sharon High School will be losing a great teacher next year.

- Ashley Tabroff

Seniors

Here's our scoop

As senior year comes to a close, we have all come to appreciate our class's uniquely different "flavors." Four years ago we were studying hard and crushing on a cute senior. We couldn't believe that we were finally in high school.

As sophomores we came into school thinking we owned the place, no longer a doormat for highly rated seniors. We danced at semi, hung out with close friends, took way too many tests, and prepared for the nortorious "junior year."

Although junior year was tough, we had our own parking lot and our own prom! By the end of the year everyone was exhausted and counting down the days until we were officially seniors.

Finally, we were the "cherry on top" and everything we did was sadly our last... our last Homecoming, our last prom, our last Halloween, our last pep rally, where we would chant "SENIORS!" "SENIORS!" Now we finally realized how quickly time flies, how truly short our four years were, and how much we'll miss our friends in the Class of 2008!

A mix of all flavors...

High school is like a big ice cream sundae, you can find all different flavors here so there is something for everyone's taste.

Individuality is what makes high school great because we each have something different we contribute to the mix. It could be through our creative talents, our athleticism, our hobbies, or even in our making of memories with the friendships we have made.

Like it or not, we all spend a lot of time here, so we are a part of SHS and SHS is a part of us. No matter how different we all are from one another, we all share a common bond, our love for the school. (Admit it or not!)

But unlike an ice cream sundae, the memories we have shared will never melt away!

Student Life

Student life at Sharon High School is sweet. What makes an icecream sundae so sweet and delicious is all the luscious layers it has for you to enjoy. What makes SHS so enjoyable is the different "layers" that make up this school.

The administration is like the waffle cone bowl, it's the foundation of our learning experience. The four scoops make up the four different grades, and the toppings are the student life at SHS. Senior year is definitely the cherry on top!

The whipped cream represents the different sports we get to play. The hot fudge symbolizes the dances we go to, the sprinkles are all of our clubs.

Just as the toppings are what complete an icecream sundae, student life here completes our whole four year experience.

BOO! a festive dress up day

Although most students were hoping that Halloween 2007 would be the year for change, their wishes did not come true for a haunted assembly. None the less, we continued with tradition as all four grades dressed in costumes of all sorts. At lunch, teachers selected by the Student Council, chose students from each grade to represent specific categories. Once the votes were cast, it was time for a major competition. Would the Class of 2008 take the lead for the second year in a row and win the coveted Golden Pumpkin?

Without a doubt the seniors were in the lead for most of the categories. The very funny Casey Howards presented the awards on school television. In the end, he presented the Golden Pumpkin award to senior class representatives, Rachel Piltch-Loeb and Austin Dill. What grade will win the Golden Pumpkin next year you ask?...

HOMECOMING PEP RALLY, CARNIVAL, GAME & DANCE

On September 29, 2007 the Sharon High School community got together to support the football team and have a great time at the carnival during Homecoming. The carnival was a huge success with booths from every grade and many clubs. There were games to play and tasty treats to eat. After the carnival it was time for the football game against North Attleboro. The Eagles put up a great fight, but were unfortunally defeated in the end. At half time the winners of the floats were announced. Every class put in a lot of effort, but the Seniors, again, took first place. That night was the Homecoming dance. It was the first dance of the year and everyone seemed to have had a great time!

Cities at Night

On March 25 the cafeteria was transformed to a magnificent city. Girls looked beautiful in their dresses, and the guys were dressed to impress. Everyone was ready to go out for a night of fun on the town. Everyone danced the night away to our favorite music from Fergie to Beyonce and from Akon to Gwen Stefani, everyone was having a blast. We even had our advisors get up and dance to the classic YMCA. Sadly though, the night came to an end and our fun was done, but Semi 2007 was a night to remember!

Who knew a dance in the cafeteria could be so much fun?

Junior Prom

After months of anticipation, the Junior Prom flew by extremely fast. On April 28, 2007 the Junior class prepared for their biggest night of the year: the girls donned evening gowns and updos while the boys dressed in tuxes and boutonnieres. The students spent the night dancing with their best friends, singing to their favorite music, and eating delicious food at Blue Hills Country Club. Now the Class of '08 is looking forward to their Senior Prom.

What do you get when you take seven male SHS students, tuxes, music and an audience? Why Sharon High's very own male beauty pageant.

Last year the Class of 2008 started a new tradition where male students compete for the crown of Mr. SHS. This year freshman Lee Cohen belted it out, while sophomore Tyler Shepard wowed the crowd with his "fly beats". Juniors Autsin Gomes and Stephen Plesko had the fans laughing, but none of them were a match for Casey Howards, Hai Pham or the winner, Julius Moyo.

The guys opened with a dance number, then walked it out in their formal attire. Mr. Banno made the interview portion anything but awkward, and had the audience in hysterics. The talent portion was very entertaining as Casey sang to Ms.Selby, while Julius' hips weren't lying" as he did his Shakira impersonation. Julius won over the judges with his charm and unforgettable laugh. In addition to the hilarity of the night, Bert and Grace had the audience in stitches and really made the show the awesome event that it was.

BOYS II MEN

Three years ago James "Kupah" Cooper facilitated the organization of the group Boys II Men at Sharon High. The group focuses on breaking down established negative theories and behaviors towards others, specifically women, adults and themselves. The goal is to challenge the individuals towards a new way of thinking that will enhance their chances of becoming an asset to the school environment, in the community and at home. Topics discussed include: success, respect, responsibility, self awareness, self esteem, personal development, community and dedication.

The METCO Progam

The Metropolitan Council for Educational Opportunity, or METCO, is a program for children and teens who live in cities, to be educated in the suburban school systems. Sharon schools have incorporated the METCO program since 1967. These students travel from Boston and Springfield to Sharon. In addition to their standard curriculum, many of these students enhance their educational experience at Sharon High by becoming involved in after school activities. The METCO program enriches the educational experiences of its members and the other SHS students by providing greater ethnic and cultural diversity in the school community.

beyond the books

Mikaela Tierney and Jessica Ryter

Students at Sharon High School spent their summer in a variety of ways. Some went surfing in the waters on the west coast, while some sailed the waters here in Boston. Some stayed close to home, and worked as camp counselors, and some took care of children from places as far away as Thailand!

Some of us met new people, while some us just hung out with old friends. Some of us took road trips with our families and saw the sights in San Francisco.

No matter where your summer plans took you, everyone enjoyed that wonderful, relaxed pace of summer.

Three students express themselves through personalized fashion.

Chandler Schoch

● A senior, likes the way skinny jeans fit. Chandler is a fan of the Express brand. "It's more important for your jeans to fit well than for them to be a name brand." She likes them because "being short she never wears flairs." She just doesn't like the way other jeans look on her. Chandler thinks skinny jeans are "hip" and make her look "stylin' :=).

> "Being short, I never wear flairs."

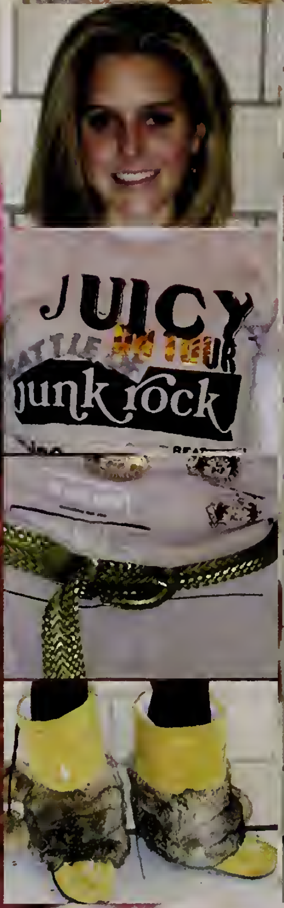
Jesse Carmen

● Is a real fashion plate. As a junior this year she has always been a standout as far as the way she dresses and puts things together.



JUICY
junk rock

Besides jeans being a staple in many a wardrobe, Ugg boots or reasonable facsimiles, are very popular.

What do your jeans say about you?

Whether they're 7 For All Mankind, Rock and Republic, a thrift store find, or just a cute pair of jeans that fit well, your jeans say something about you. Hopefully your jeans are not too tight and don't expose a muffin top, which is a fashion don't. Senior Staci Mendelsohn says, "Citizens Jeans- they fit well and they make my butt look good!" Senior Julius Moyo sticks to the original Lee Dungarees and "Keeps it poppin." The faculty has something different to say about jeans, as they can only wear them on casual Fridays', "I like to be comfortable and relaxed, and I don't like dressing up." To Mr. Ronco the fashion police say, "We love to see a teacher in jeans, it makes school seem not so stressfull and much more relaxed."

Justin Berneburg

Justin's style is preppy/ Hollister, that's according to his friends and classmates. We asked if he had a favorite jean b[illegible] said no. No matter what he wears to school though, he always looks great!

A Hollister model in our midst?

Sports

At SHS all the athletes try very hard, even if our teams are not always on the winning side of things. We try our best, and that is what matters.

We play with the most spirit, and pride ourselves on our good sportsmanship.

In our sports program "teams" are formed, within our "teams" friendships are formed, and many of these will last a lifetime.

We love to show our support for our teams, even if we don't play a sport ourselves. We can all be involved.

Being a captain is a huge honor. I have been on varsity for the past four years and to be named captain is such an accomplishment. Sports at Sharon High School are so important, I feel it is as important as eating dinner.

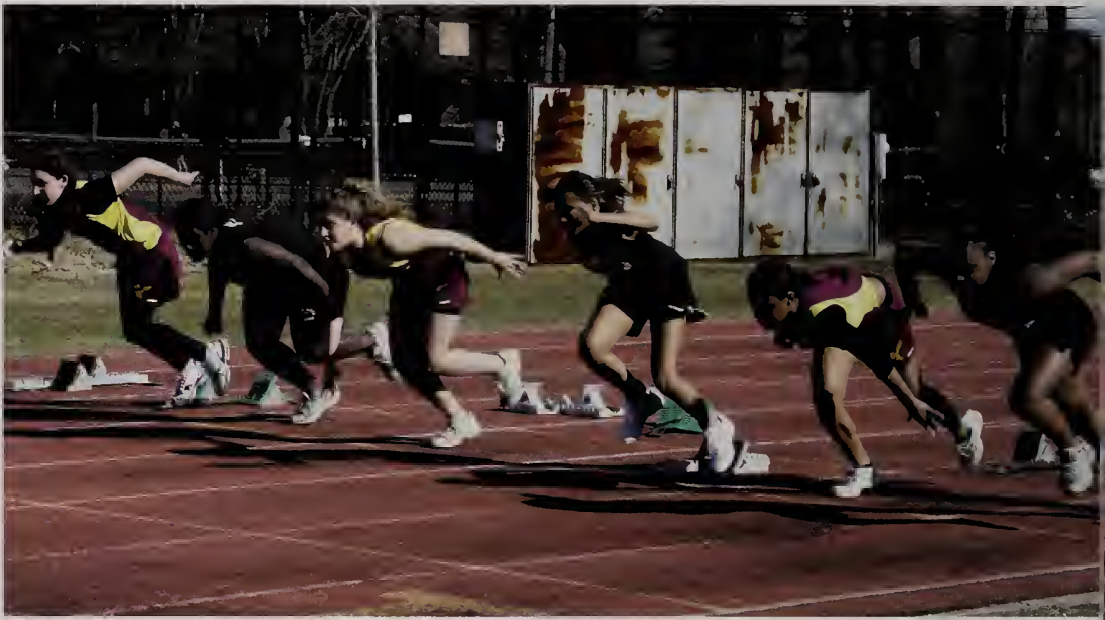
launching over the top



It doesn't really matter if you win or lose, because we had a successful season in other ways. Each member of our team grew, individually and also as a member of a whole team. Many teammates made it to States and everyone improved their times significantly. That is a huge accomplishment.

I will never forget being nervous before every meet. But to be captain of a team, you have to give 110% at every practice and every meet. I feel like I need to be a role model for the younger ones on the team, try to have a positive attitude, lead by example and always try my hardest. It's also nice because you get to meet a lot of new people.

Every coach I have ever had has helped inspire me. They would push me, even when I thought I couldn't get any faster or achieve a better race time.

I started playing tennis when I was young because my mother signed me up for lessons. I didn't play again until sophomore year, when I needed a spring sport to keep me busy.

It means a lot to be a captain. You have to show leadership, step up and lead by example, especially when your team is faced with adversity. Being a part of the Varsity Boys' Tennis Team has allowed me to compete at the highest level. It's been an awesome experience.

I'm really honored that I have been elected captain and I am hoping that I can live up to the expectations that my teammates have. My father was the one who inspired me to play baseball, but my whole family was very supportive. It's an honor to be named captain and leader of the team. The responsibilites that come with being captain are: dedication to the team, showing up early to practices, leading by example, leaving practice after everyone else has left, to help out the coaches. Being on varsity gives me a sense of accomplishment.

I will always remember the fun times I had with my friends and the long practices we had to make us the best we could possibly be. To have a successful season you have to give 110%, have fun, and hopefully win while you're at it.

I think that having the drive to win is important in any sport you play. In my mind there are two things that play a big part; effort and improvement. And as the season progesses it is important for the team to improve. Our team got better and better as the season progressed, and we made far fewer errors.

As far as playing on varsity, that doesn't matter as much to me as just playing the game. It's been great being a part of such a close team and I will never forget the time we spent together.

My dad inspired me the most to play softball. He has always encouraged me in any thing I chose to do ever since I was little. He was my coach back in elementary school and even now he rarely misses a game.

To be named captain of the Cross Country Team is one of the highest honors I have received in high school. As captain, I have full responsibility for the team. The other seniors and I are role models for the rest of the team, and everyone strives to be like us.

Although our record during the past few years has been good, a successful team does not depend on that at all. It depends on how much we try to improve ourselves and our attitudes towards the sport.

Our varsity team represents the best athletes of the whole Cross Country Team. It is important that the athletes have the physical capabilties to run at this level, and have good sportmanship to represent Sharon High as well.

Our dads raised us on the golf course and we have grown up loving the game. There is nothing we would rather do in our free time. Being golfers all our lives, we are very happy to captain the Golf Team. We feel it is an honor and a privilege to be playing varsity Golf at SHS. It is a very important extracurricular activity to us. We take it very seriously.

We both have been playing golf all our lives and are very happy about being captains. We are even more ecstatic about sharing our life long passion of golf with our teammates. We want to help them enjoy the season as much as we know we will. We also enjoy being around the other guys and enjoy the camaraderie. We enjoy laughing with the team and joking around. Golf is always more fun when you can laugh about it.

I began playing field hockey in middle school when I was in the 6th grade. I don't remember who motivated me to get involved with this sport, but because I enjoyed it, I stuck with it.

As the captain of the Field Hockey Team, I feel responsible for my teammates and their actions. Even though the Field Hockey Team isn't known as a "winning team", we still try to find connections between each other and make sure that each player walks away with a positive experience.

Playing a sport helps keep you in shape, allows you to spend time with friends and start new friendships. Our coach, Peg Arguimbau, always has such a positive attitude and keeps everyone motivated. Her random "nature" comments kept the team laughing at almost every practice.

I had always wanted to play football when I was little, but I was always too big. The fact that my dad played football in both high school and college, and because my brother was already playing at SHS both made me want to play.

It's an honor to be named a captain because I was elected by the other players on the team. These kids have been working extremely hard, so it is an honor to represent them.

As a captain I try to keep the guys encouraged about staying with football and becoming better players. I try to lead by example, work as had as I can, and hope that the team will work just as hard. I am also the bridge between the players and the coaches. If any player has a problem, it's my repsonsibility to fix it.

Everyone on this team has amazing resolve and mental toughness. They are able to keep fighting when faced with the negativity from friends and classmates that surrounds a losing season. The guys work their butts off week after week, no matter who we face as an opponent.

Our squad needs to make SHS's school spirit the best is can be. We would also like to help our team win at competitions.

The team is like one big family--we've grown with each other. Being captain is like being their mom. They're by far the best group of kids in the school. As captains we encourage team bonding and help bring the team together into one cohesive group. We are also there to keep everyone in line.

A successful season means having lots of fun, trying our hardest, winning, and doing well at championships. Of course going undefeated in the Hockomock league would be amazing. Our biggest aim is to reach both our team and individual goals.

Being on the team is a good way to build school pride and friendship between grades. We have so many memories from each and every past season. Bus rides, cheers, and scary upperclassmen are just some of the things we will remember most.

wrestling with the school's future

To me, a successful season is watching my teammates improve over time and having a winning record. The skill of every individual wrestler represents the entire team. We are only as strong as our weakest wrestler, so as a captain of this particular sport, I try to lead by example and to help everyone.

For me wrestling at the varsity level is physically demanding, and as a result it is a great outlet for my excessive energy. I was inspired to get involved in wrestling by watching UFC (Mixed Martials Arts) on television. It made me love fighting, and to fight professionally you have to know how to wrestle.

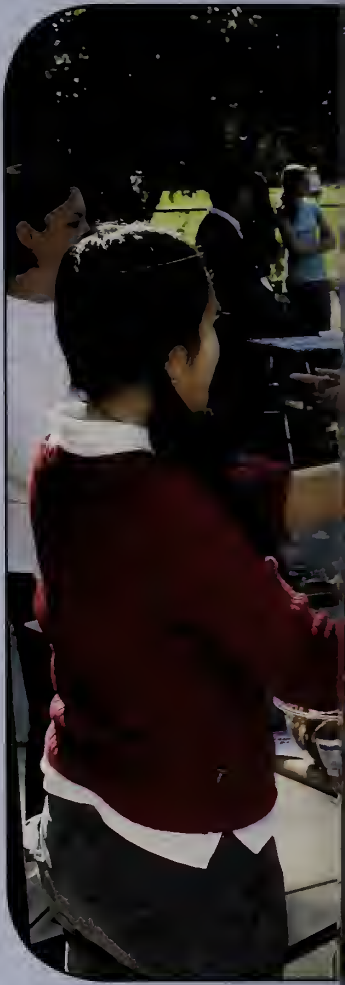
Clubs and Activites

A choice for everyone's pallette...



At Sharon High School there are so many different clubs and activities that everyone can find something they like.

With so much to choose from, everyone's individual "tastes" can be met. Also we each have something different to add to the "mix". It could be our creative talents, our athleticism, or even the hobbies we enjoy. Each club has different appeal to different people.

And like it or not, we all spend a lot of time here, so we are a part of SHS and it is a part of us. No matter how different we all are from one another, we all share a common bond, our love of this school. (Admit it or not!)

No matter what you are involved in, the memories you make and share with your friends last forever.

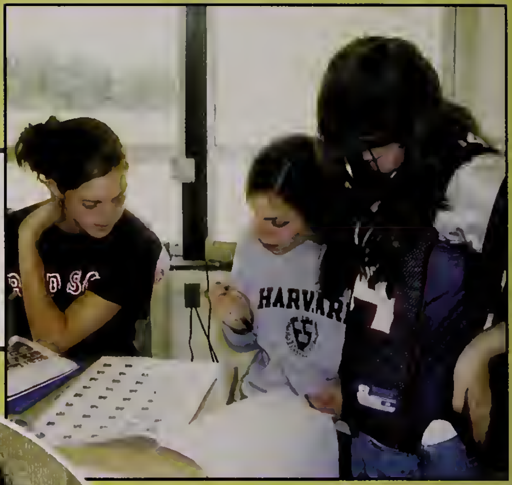
PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER....

MARSENGOLD



We, on the Marsengold staff, worked very hard this year to put together a unique and "yummy" yearbook. So much goes into compiling a yearbook that most people could never even imagine. Girls and boys, from all four grades, spent hours and hours picking out photos, correcting pages, coming up with write ups, and getting interviews!

Our staff even took the time this year, to raise money for a charity. We chose the California Wildfire victims because we felt enough wasn't being done, and we wanted to help.

Special thanks goes to Ashley Dewji who was the editor-in-chief. It was a huge undertaking for only one senior editor. She really rose to the challenge and came up with many wonderful ideas and additions. Thanks to all the Marsengold staff, students can look back on the school year of '07-'08 with very "sweet" memories.

As a junior on the yearbook staff it has been a fun break from the stresses of everyday life. I like looking at all the different photos while making the book. It has been an amazing experience and I can't wait until next year. -Ilyssa Bloch

Many different varieties...

Here at Sharon High School we are fortunate to have teachers who give us the "scoop" on everything that we need to know. Committing their days to teaching takes hard work and dedication.

The teachers at Sharon High School contribute many positive aspects to our high school experience, and put great effort into everything that they do. Each day they are enriching our lives, which will have an impact on all of our futures.

Above: We heard Mr. Brande's tutorials were nerve racking to say the least, Sarah Vlach doesn't look at all nervous!

Mr. Blanchet, social studies teacher, and our very own D.J.

Ms. Malcolm stays after school for extra help and as advisor for Model U.N.

Mr. Fazzio reflects on his day.

To laugh often an much;
to win the respect of intelligent humans and affection of children;
to earn the appreciattion of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others;
to leave the earth a bit better, whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemded social condition;
to know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.

This is to have succeeded.
-Ralph Waldo Emerson
